

FREE Train the Trainer professional development workshop (Sydney)

The proposed dates for these two workshops run by the National Clinical Training Manager Etty Matalon are the week beginning May 3 and May 17 at NCPIC in Sydney

ncpic
national cannabis prevention and information centre

The aim of the 'Train the Trainer' model is to increase the ability of a selected group of drug and alcohol workers and health care practitioners skilled in the delivery of motivational enhancement and cognitive behavioural therapies to successfully deliver and train others in NCPIC's two evidenced based interventions.

Day 1

The Essence of Training plus Adolescent Cannabis Check Up

Day 2

The Essence of Training plus Quitting Cannabis 1 – 6 Sessions

If you are interested in becoming a Trainer, this is a great opportunity to improve your clinical skills as the workshops are aligned to core competencies.

This workshop will be facilitated by the National Cannabis Prevention and Information Centre.

Morning tea & lunch are provided.

Travel Subsidies may be available for those in rural and regional areas.

Please express your interest in either or both of the workshops during one of the proposed weeks by contacting Dion at NCPIC on d.alperstein@unsw.edu.au or phone Dion on (02) 9385 0452.

Please note: Should you be interested in registering for the workshop we would require written consent from your line manager as organisational support is critical for a sustainable model.
